Step 4: Once you download the file of your choice, here is how to save it to your computer, using a PDF file as the main example. You click on the “File” drop down menu.

Step 3: Choose “Save As” from the “File” drop down menu.

Step 4: Click on the “Save in” drop down menu and select where you want to save your e-book on your computer. Then go to the “File Name” window and change the name if necessary. (Sometimes publishers have it set up to be a serial number rather than the title) Then click on “Save.”

Note: Saving other formats to your computer should be similar to saving them in PDF format. They would open in the program they are intended for and then you can follow the same instructions to save them.
